LOS ANGELES — A doubly mysterious aerial tragedy faced investigators today—what caused four planes to collide in two separate crashes in this area within 24 hours, killing 53 persons?

A Cessna 180 with four persons aboard and a Piper Tri-Pacer smashed together Sunday in overcast skies near Yorba Linda, about 20 miles southeast of Los Angeles. All five persons in the two planes were killed.

Less than 24 hours earlier, 48 were killed when a four-engine Military Air Transport Service (MATS) plane, carrying 41 persons, and a multi-engine Navy Neptune bomber with eight residents aboard collided over suburban Norwalk.

All aboard the transport, a C-118 Skymaster, and six aboard the Navy P2V patrol craft died as the smashed planes screamed to earth from 2,500 feet, slamming wreckage over a heavily populated area.

A 23-year old mother, Mrs. Edith Hernandez, was cut in half by a piece of wreckage when she walked from her house more than a mile from where the transport crashed.

Two reservists, Leslie Van Dyke, 23, Laguna Beach, Calif., and Sanford L. Fenton, 23, Los Angeles, escaped death when the Navy plane crashed near Santa Fe Springs, about three miles from the transport.

Civil Aeronautics Administration and military officials immediately opened an investigation in to the Yorba Linda crash.

While CAA investigators probed through wreckage of the two planes in a sparsely populated country area, coroners' deputies worked to identify the bodies of the five victims.

The dead aboard the Cessna were identified as the pilot, Paul N. Bell, 40, of North Hollywood; Philip Kostman, his wife, Rosalee, and their son Craig, about 2, of Los Angeles.

Pilot of the other plane was tentatively identified as George Turner, 51, of Long Beach.

Stephen Wiley Undergoes Eye Surgery

Stephen Wiley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wiley, was taken to the Barnes hospital in St. Louis, Mo., Saturday where emergency eye surgery was performed at mid night. A piece of beverage bottle was removed from the eye ball which was injured in an accident Saturday afternoon. The boy is reported to be in satisfactory condition and expects to be released from the hospital the latter part of this week.

Bulganin Rejects Ministers' Parley As Preliminary to Summit Talks

MOSCOW — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's letter to President Eisenhower flatly rejected a foreign ministers conference as a preliminary to a summit conference, it was disclosed today.

Instead, the Soviet premier suggested that the agenda and procedural questions could be proposed through diplomatic channels once the great powers agree to a meeting at the summit.

Bulganin's latest letter to Eisenhower was delivered in Washington Saturday. The text was released here today.

The Bulganin letter was in reply to Eisenhower's answer to earlier Soviet proposals for a conference of the heads of state.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry released the Bulganin note at a news conference this afternoon.

Bulganin proposed nine points as a possible agenda for the conference. These already have been given in numerous previous Soviet declarations and announcements.

They included:

—Termination of atom and nuclear tests.

—Renunciation of the use of nuclear weapons by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

—Creation of an "atom-free" zone in Central Europe.

—A non-aggression pact between NATO and Warsaw Pact powers.

—Reduction of the number of foreign troops stationed in Germany and other European nations.

—Discussion of questions connected with preventing surprise attacks.

—Expansion of international trade.

—Prohibition of "war propaganda."

—Measures to reduce tension in the Near and Middle East.

Missouri Trooper, Hostage Of 2 Gunmen, Found Unharmed

Forced to Drive Through 3 States; One Flees, Second Shoots Himself

PADUCAH, Ky. — Missouri State Trooper William Little, 31, who gave himself for 28 hours as hostage to two gunmen to protect a young woman, was free and unharmed today because one of his kidnapers preferred suicide to another prison term.

One of the kidnapers, Carl Edward Burton, 24, was still at large.

The other, Harold Wayne Davis, 33, was in critical condition at a hospital here from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the abdomen.

"I thought I was a goner," said Little, as he described the harrowing hours during which he drove at gunpoint through three states, had his hat shot out of his hand during a wild chase through Paducah streets Saturday night, and lived for almost 24 hours in a farmhouse at nearby Melber, Ky., much of the time shackled with his own handcuffs.

The nightmare ended when the two gunmen quarreled last night and Burton left the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shelton, where they had forced an entry and holed up. A few hours later, Davis, disoriented by Burton's leadership and fearful of another prison term, walked into the Shelton farmyard and shot himself.

Davis and Burton, married to sisters in Redwood City, Calif., were charged by the FBI with kidnaping and taking a stolen car across a state line. Davis, the FBI said, once served five years at San Quentin for assault to murder.

Little said his long day spent with death staring him in the face started Saturday evening, when he and the sheriff at Van Buren, Mo., investigated two men in a car with California license tags. Little found two guns in the glove compartment, but the two men suddenly produced a sawed-off shotgun.

They forced the officers to drive to a nearby filling station, which they held up, taking gas and money.

Little said, "Burton wanted to take the girl (Mrs. Tommy Foster, 15, wife of the service station attendant) as hostage, but I said they could take me if they wouldn't harm her."

The bandits agreed and forced the trooper into his police cruiser, but did not notice that his radio transmitter was turned on. Through conversation with the gunmen, Little was able to give state police an inkling of what had happened.

Wild Chase in Paducah

State police cars began to pick up their trail, and Burton told Little, "If any car comes near, you'll be the first to go." They drove to Cairo, Ill., and on to Paducah, where Burton took the wheel.

A wild chase through the Paducah streets followed, with Burton driving and firing a pistol at the same time. Davis blew a hole in the rear window with a shotgun so he could fire a rifle through it.

"A bullet came through the back of the car, and tore up my hat that I was holding in my hand," Little said.

With police fearing to close in because of the danger to Little, Burton drove to Melber, 12 miles southwest. They stopped at the Shelton home and forced their way in. That was Saturday night.

"They told the Sheltons they wouldn't be hurt if they did as they were told. They made me take off my jacket and blouse," Little said.

The officer said he was allowed

Larry Maxfield, 11, Of Ledford, Dies; Funeral Tuesday

Larry Ross Maxfield, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Maxfield of the Ledford community, died in the Lightner hospital at 5:30 p. m. Saturday. He had been a patient since January 1, and before that was in the hospital during August of last year. He had been in failing health for about five years.

In addition to his parents he leaves the following brothers and sisters: Bill Maxfield of Maunee, Mrs. Byford (Peggy) Moore, Harrisburg, Truman, Jerry, B. E. Jr., Dixie and Barbara, all of Ledford. The body will lie in state at the Turner funeral home in Harrisburg until the funeral at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Church of God of Prophecy on Homer street. Rev. Harry Grimes, assisted by Rev. John Williams, will officiate and burial will be in the Ledford cemetery. Larry Ross was a 4th grade pupil at the Ledford school and pallbearers will be schoolboys of the school and flowers will be carried by the schoolgirls.

Extinguish Fire In Truckload Of Furniture

Fire in a truckload of furniture was extinguished at 11:30 a. m. today by the Harrisburg fire department.

Fire Chief L. G. Martin said the furniture, belonging to David Webster, was being transported in a pickup truck by his grandfather, George Webber of Galatia Route 1. On North Main street in front of the Labor Temple the fire was discovered in the furniture.

Damage was confined to breakfast furniture, to part of the stake bed of the truck and some smaller items, Martin said.

Origin of the fire had not been determined.

House Hearing Opens

FCC Chairman, Members Deny Wrongdoing as Gov't Officials

WASHINGTON — Chairman John C. Doerfer of the Federal Communications Commission protested today that he has been put through a "trial by ordeal" in the nation's press on "vague" charges of misconduct.

Doerfer told a House commerce investigating subcommittee he had been subjected to "torture . . . of medieval times."

While he was not permitted at once to answer the charges directly, he denied any wrongdoing.

Commissioner Rosel H. Hyde, also charged with accepting favors, told the subcommittee:

"I emphatically deny that any of my acts as a government official warrant charges of official misconduct."

Robert T. Bartley, another FCC member, told the subcommittee that he also had done nothing wrong.

Promise Full Investigation

Doerfer, Hyde, Bartley and two other commissioners — Robert E. Lee and Richard A. Mack — were summoned before the subcommittee to answer charges by the subcommittee staff that they accepted color TV sets and other costly "favors" from the broadcasting industry.

Chairman Morgan M. Moulder (D-Mo.), in opening the initial hearing today, promised a "thorough and full" investigation of the staff's finding that the five FCC members had been guilty of "official personal misconduct" and had permitted the broadcast industry to exert a "wrongful influence" on them.

Hyde denied that the broadcast industry had paid any living expenses for him and said that any expenses he charged the government were "more than justified to cover actual costs incurred by me."

He also denied that industry officials paid living expenses for his wife or that anyone "has presumed to attempt to influence my official actions in any matter before the FCC."

Hyde said, however, that he saw "no violation of law or moral standard" in accepting "on loan" color TV sets from the broadcast industry. He said they were "necessary tools for the performance of my official duties."

Bartley said "there is nothing unusual about the giving and receiving of greetings and gifts at Christmas time, anniversaries, etc."

"In no instance, during my nearly six years on the commission," he said, "has anyone stepped beyond the bounds of propriety nor have any gifts been received by me or my family which I considered more than a mere token of courtesy and respect."

Nine and Half Million Vacationers Visited Illinois, Spent $775 Million

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Governor William G. Stratton revealed today that while the number of vacationers who came to Illinois from other states dropped slightly in 1957, the prospect of a substantial increase in 1958 was very good.

"Illinois had 9½ million vacationers last year," the governor said, "but we expect a substantial increase this year when Illinois will be commemorating the centennial of the Lincoln-Douglas debates."

Debate centennials will be celebrated at Ottawa, Aug. 21-24; Freeport, Aug. 27; Jonesboro, Sept. 10-15; Charleston, Sept. 18; Galesburg, Oct. 7; Quincy, Oct. 11-13; and Alton, Oct. 15. Springfield will commemorate the centennial of the famous "House Divided" speech on June 16. In addition to these centennials, Beardstown will have a re-enactment of the Duff Armstrong "Almanac Trial" on May 6 and 7.

The governor also pointed out that although the number of out-of-state vacationers to Illinois decreased in 1957 the amount they spent climbed to $775 million, a total higher than the amount spent in 1956.

Carl G. Hodges, supervisor of the Illinois Department of Information Service, the state's travel promotion agency, said that his statistics indicate that vacationers aren't traveling as far, but that they are spending more time at the vacation spots in previous years.

"Two or three years ago," Hodges said, "vacationers traveled an average of 1600 miles, 800 each way. Last year this average dropped to about 1200 miles."

These figures, he said, indicate that vacationers are spending more time in Illinois, which accounts for the increase in the amount of money spent. He stated that in 1957 vacationers spent an average of 3½ days in Illinois as compared to two days in previous years.

"Since Illinois is a 'crossroad' state, many vacationers spend a single day or night here while traveling elsewhere. This lowers

Transportation Will Be Furnished for Blood Donors Tuesday

Blood donors who need transportation to the Bloodmobile tomorrow can call CL 3-9555 or 3-9946, and a car will be furnished to take them to and from the Elks club, where the Bloodmobile will be in operation from noon until 6 p. m., it was announced today by the Red Cross office.

The Red Cross also stressed the fact that some donor sheets were not turned in in time for appointment cards to be mailed, but that donors can come in and give blood any time between the hours specified above, with or without an appointment card.

Red Cross officials were hopeful of a large turnout on this "last chance" visit of the Bloodmobile, since Saline County's quota must be met or the county will lose the services of the blood program.

Urge Taxpayers To Use Punch- Type Returns

Federal income taxpayers who receive in the mail punch-card type Forms 1040-A were urged today by District Director H. J.
White of the Internal Revenue Service to use them rather than to obtain other copies of the same Form or to use the regular Form 1040.

The punch-card Form 1040-A is intended for the use of taxpayers whose incomes during 1957 were less than $5,000 total income consisting of wages reported on Form W-2 and $100 interest and dividend income. Mr. White explained that the forms actually distributed by the Revenue Service through the mails direct to taxpayers already contain certain punched entries relating to statistics determined in last year's returns of these same taxpayers, and it is desired to maintain such key information intact.

However, Mr. White pointed out, taxpayers who in 1956 were in the under $5,000 bracket, but who in 1957 earned income above that sum should of course discard the 1040-A and file on the regular Form 1040. Also, any taxpayers whose 1957 income was under $5,000 but who during the year had extra deductible expenses greater than 10 per cent of their incomes must obtain and use the regular Form 1040 if they wish to itemize deductions.

Prospective taxpayers who do not receive a Form 1040-A, but are eligible to use it, were urged to obtain a copy from the nearest Internal Revenue Office. It is a simpler form than the regular 1040, and is more easily prepared.

Perils of the Space Congress

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
New York Central's Robert Young Had Contemplated Suicide Over Investment Difficulties; He Had To Sell Most Of His N. Y. Central Stock; Ambassador Zaroubin Gets To Like American People.

WASHINGTON. — Inside fact about dynamic Bob Young, head of the New York Central, who shot the side of his face off in a Palm Beach attic the other day was that he had been trying for months to sell his house in Palm Beach and had taken a mortgage on his home in Newport, R. I.
On one other occasion a relative had wrested a revolver from his hands.

Reasons for his depression were: 1. He had hoped to make the New York Central prosper and wasn't succeeding; 2. His Allegany Corporation held substantial loans for a big real estate firm in New York which is shaky; 3. His assets were locked into the Allegany Corporation by a three-old Supreme Court suit brought by one stockholder, Randolph Phillips.

Paradoxically, the Supreme Court held in Young's favor 48 hours after he shot himself. Even at the time he leveled his shotgun at his head in his Palm Beach attic the Supreme Court had ruled for him but Young didn't know it.

Most humiliating to Young was the fact that he had to sell 100, 000 shares of New York Central stock leaving him only 1,200 shares. He had raised cash with the previous Central management for not owning stock in its own company. And now he was put in the same position.

The reason he was put in the same position was because Alle-ghany stock in New York Central was frozen. It owns 1,000, 000 shares of Central but couldn't sell because of the Supreme Court suit. As a result it took a loss of $10,000,000. Central stock was plummeting down from a high of $50 to $16, during which Alleghany couldn't sell but also during which Young had to have money to cover his margins. That was why he mortgaged his Newport house, tried to sell his Palm Beach house, and cashed in 100, 000 shares of Central stock.

When Young took over the New York Central he promised a dividend of $8 a share. In December his board passed paying, any dividend. He saw no light ahead.

The administration which he had helped to put into office had helped the highways, done nothing for the railroads. He considered his life's work finished.

Note—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor were planning to visit him this week.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

The government is now so obsessed over security that it's even censoring the Morgenthau diary.
FDR's secretary of the treasury gave his diary to the National Archives for the use of historians but the State Defense, and Treasury Departments classified it "secret." Secretary of the Navy Gates is chafing at inaction and indecision in the Pentagon.
talks about going back to his home town, Philadelphia. He may deny this publicly, but privately he's caught in a morass can't get anyone to say yes or no on basic decisions, has to work from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., and hasn't played golf once since September. Speaker Sam Rayburn has put the kibosh on the hopes of a Chicago catering firm to start a fancy public restaurant and banquet hall in the west side of the Capitol building. Sen.
Everett Dirksen of Illinois was backing the plan. Tourist groups, visiting firemen, chambers of commerce were to hold banquets in the proposed dining room, then could write home that they ate under the same roof with the Congress of the United States.
Mr. Sam said no.

EXIT ZAROUBIN

It was an ironic twist of diplomatic fate that the Soviet ambassador who arrived in Washington under a cloud stayed to negotiate the first people-to-people exchange with Russia. Georgi Zaroubin had been in charge of the Soviet Embassy in Canada
when Code Clerk Igor Gouenko walked out with cables proving that military members of the embassy were stealing atomic secrets.

Zaroubin got to know the United States, seemed to like the American people. There were even rumors that he was being recalled because he was too friendly — though these could not be substantiated.

At one reception he met Mrs.
Eugene Meyer wife of the chairman of the Washington Post and constant constructive needler of President Eisenhower to supply more money for schools.

"Oh you're from the Washington Post!" exclaimed Zaroubin as he was introduced to Mrs. Meyer.
Mrs. Meyer expected a tirade against the Post's frequent criticism of Russia. But the ambassador chuckled.

"Your trucks," he said. "They keep us awake all night! All night long the trucks of the Washington Post are loading papers, backing starting, pulling out. You have ruined more sleep for us than any notes from Mr. Dulles or any cable sent from Moscow."

The rear of the Washington Post abuts the rear of the Soviet embassy, once owned by Mrs. Pullman of Pullman Car fame.

BST DRAWS A CROWD
The Democrats, who always have to worry about money, are thanking their lucky stars for Harry Truman. "Fire-and-Brimstone" Harry is going to be the sneaker at their Washington birthday dinner, and three weeks ahead of time they have $50,000 cash in hand and $72,000 committed. The Sheraton Park hotel, where the banquet is to be held, holds about 1900 people and they are already planning to put tables in adjoining rooms for 1, 200 more.

What astounds the Truman dinner organizers is that Civil Service officials in the Eisenhower administration are sending in their money for tickets. They are not being solicited. Maybe they see the handwriting on the wall.

The chimney swift is the only bird known that can beat its wings alternately, enabling it to be the most maneuverable bird that flies.

Migrant Ministry Provides Aid for Poverty-Stricken Migratory Farm Workers

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent

Bad weather in south Florida has created a new crisis for one of the oldest and least-known "home missions" of American churches.

Alternate rains and freezes have severely damaged Florida's winter crop of fruits and vegetables. This is a hard blow to the growers. It is sheer catastrophe for 15,000 migratory farm workers and their families who are now stranded in the state, with no hope of finding work before spring plantings are ready for harvest about March 15.

Emergency help is being mobilized to relieve their desperate plight—at least to the extent of preventing actual starvation. State and county agencies, civic clubs, business firms and private individuals are cooperating. Some surplus food from federal stocks has been made available.

In the midst of this effort, armed with few resources besides a tremendous determination to help the migrants, is an inter-denominational church organization called the Migrant Ministry.

The Migrant Ministry was founded in 1920 by church women of 21 Protestant denominations. It now operates in 31 states, under the aegis of the Home Missions Division of the National Council of Churches.

Lives Spent in Poverty

Its mission is to minister to the material, educational and spiritual needs of about 1,500,000 men, women and children who "follow the crops." These migrant laborers have been called "the forgotten families." Their lives are spent in almost incredible poverty and squalor.

During the cold months, they congregate in southern tier states like Florida, Arizona and Texas, where there are winter crops to be harvested. In spring they move north in three streams of battered vehicles—one heading up the East Coast into New Jersey and New York; another through the Midwest to the Canadian border; and a third to the West Coast through California.

They live in whatever shelter they can find, sheds, barns, tarpaper shacks, occasionally the comparative luxury of a migrant barracks. They travel in worn out cars, or herd together like cattle in "creeper trucks."

Deprived Of Services

Because they cannot comply with residence requirements for public aid, migrants are often deprived of medical care and welfare services. Their illness and death rates are much higher than the average population. Sixty per cent of them are illiterates. The average family income, in a good year, with everyone including the children working in the fields is about $1,000.

The Migrant Ministry tries to help them in several ways. It organizes public and private aid for them when they are destitute—as they are in Florida now. It conducts literacy classes to teach adults and older children how to read road markers and sign their names. It operates child care centers where very young children can be left while their mothers are in the fields instead of being left in boxes between the rows, or locked in overheated cars in the broiling sun.

It also provides worship services, conducted from altars mounted on the tailgates of station wagons. The ministry now has 30 of these moving station wagons, called "harvesters," each manned by a specially-trained chaplain who is the modern version of the circuit-riding preacher of pioneer days.

Miss Edith Lowry, national director, estimated that the Migrant Ministry is currently reaching about 10 per cent of the total migratory labor population.

Although Wilhelm Richard Wagner was to become one of the world's great geniuses, in his first piano lessons he showed as little promise as any ordinary child. However, he secretly learned the whole overture to Carl Weber's Der Freischütz while he was still supposed to be doing only five-finger exercises.

Rita Marries Producer Hill

HOLLYWOOD — Rita Hayworth married her boss, producer James Hill, on her fifth trip to the altar Sunday and reported to the bridegroom today to continue work on her new movie.

The tuff-haired glamour girl and Hill were married at an informal double-ring ceremony in the bride's Beverly Hills home. Her daughters Princess Yasmin (by Aly Kahn) and Pebecca Welles (by actor Orson Welles) attended. The semi-secret marriage climaxed a six-month romance.

It was Hill's first marriage. Rita's record now stands: oilman actor, prince, crooner, mogul. In order they were Ed Judson, Welles, Aly Kahn, Dick Haymes and Hill.

Gray Names 14 To Take Exams for Naval Academy

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Fourteen young men from southern Illinois today were nominated by Congressman Kenneth J. Gray to take the entrance examination for admittance to the U. S. Crescent Home Bureau Meets

With Mrs. Wanda Taylor

The Crescent Home Bureau unit met in the home of Mrs. Wanda Taylor recently. Mrs. Martin Hunt, home adviser, gave the major topic, "Combining Dinnerware, Glassware and Silverware," and Mrs. Wilma Ervin gave the minor topic, "What Is Your Friendliness Score?"

Those present were: Mrs. Jane Brown, Mrs. Mary Piper, Mrs. Betty C. Jarrell, Mrs. Vivian Harris, Mrs. Shirley Shewmake, Mrs. Lea Price, Mrs. Larrie Lands, Mrs. Regina Skelley, Mrs. Betty R. Jarrell, Mrs. Wilma Ervin, Mrs. June Gibbons, Mrs. Norma Carpenter, Mrs. Nora Jo Keneipp, Mrs. Marion Reynolds, Mrs. Wanda Taylor and two new members, Mrs. Elaine Woolard and Mrs. Virginia Trammell.

Mrs. W. R. Gates and daughter, Mrs. O. B. Dorrough, left today for Coral Gables, Florida. They traveled on the City of Miami train and will visit Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Probasco for two weeks. Mr. Probasco is Mrs. Gates' brother and Mrs. Dorrough's uncle.

Miss Pam Colbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Colbert, RFD 2, Harrisburg, was taken to St. Louis Children's hospital at St. Louis, Mo., Friday for observation. She expects to stay in the hospital for several days and would appreciate hearing from her friends. She is in room 22 on the second floor of the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDowell have returned to their home in this city, after an absence of 11 months, during which he was employed as an electrician in the construction of a grade and high school building at Rushville, Ind. Mr. McDowell, whose last work was for the Moorehead Electric Co., Indianapolis, said that prospects appeared very good for building with the beginning of spring weather in the area where he has been employed during the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and son, Billy, of Galatia visited recently with Clyde Smith Jr. and family in Moline.

Shot to the Moon Believed to Be Next Major Effort by U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. John P. Hagen, chief of Project Vanguard, declared today "We know how to put the things together to go to the moon."

All that is needed, he told the United Press, is an official go-ahead plus the time needed to assemble and prepare the necessary "hardware."

Official estimates of the time required to fire off a rocket to or around the moon have varied. Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), a member of the newly created Senate outer space subcommittee, said Sunday night the United States should be able to send a rocket to the moon "with in a few months."

A shot to the moon loomed as a possible next major U. S. effort as the first American earth satellite girdled the globe in its third day of existence, emitting a stream of information-laden radio signals.

Explorer Praised

The satellite, dubbed "Explorer" by its proud Army "parents" but officially called "1958 Alpha" was reaping a harvest of praise at home and abroad as the first U. S. entry in the space race. While admittedly not as impressive as Russia's two Sputniks, Explorer was a tangible sign this country was in the race for space, and an omen of more exploits to come.

Next on the schedule was another attempt to launch a small man-moon via the Navy's Vanguard rocket which exploded at its first launching and has been plagued by difficulties. A new try with the Vanguard was expected any day.

In addition to the Navy, the Army is said to have proposed using its Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) (not to be confused with the Jupiter-C) to hurl a satellite high enough to circle the moon. The Air Force has officially revealed it is thinking of using its Thor IRBM for flights to outer space.

Death Takes Mrs. Clint Hill

Mrs. Olive Hill, 82, mother of Clint Hill, Harrisburg RFD 1, died in the Good Shepherd nursing home in Galatia at 5 a. m. Sunday. She was formerly a resident of Williamson county and was a member of the Crab Orchard Baptist church. In addition to her son she is survived by her half-sisters, Mrs. Jess Swinney, Marion and Mrs. Beulah Harrigan, Granite City.

The body will lie in state at the Courtney funeral home in Galatia until the funeral at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Shiloh church about 10 miles south of Marion. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

9 1/2 Million Vacationers Visited Illinois in '57

the average stay which would otherwise be four or five days if you discounted these "passing through" vacationers," Hodges said.

The governor also released figures compiled by the Illinois Department of Information Service which showed that 91 per cent of these visitors to Illinois traveled by car, while only 9 per cent used bus, train or plane.

Vacationers replying to questionnaires indicate that motels claim the most travel patronage with 46 per cent choosing them for overnight accommodations. Almost 24 per cent stayed with friends, 14 per cent preferred hotels, 12 per cent camped out, and the remainder stayed at private resorts.

Hodges said that questionnaires returned from more than 6,000 persons, a tiny fraction of the vacationers coming to Illinois, showed that they spent 45,000 man-days in the state. These persons traveled 812,274 miles and spent $149,824.

Governor Stratton said he was pleased with results of the state's travel promotion agency because "not only do vacationers increase retail business for Illinois merchants, but they contribute huge sums to Illinois tax revenues thru the state motor fuel tax and sales tax."

"In a period of four years," the governor stated, "we have lifted Illinois from 11th place in popularity as a vacation land to a tie for fourth place, with a corresponding increase in our share of the national vacation dollar."

Two Area Men Assigned to State Trooper Duties

Wayne Lloyd Hicks of Eldorado, who was graduated from the Illinois State Highway Police Training Academy Saturday, has been assigned to District 6, which has headquarters at Pontiac. Joseph N. Irvin of Broughton has been assigned to Effingham District 12.

A class of 74 was graduated and active duty was given to 52 men, including Troopers Hicks and Irvin. These appointments bring the force to the authorized full strength of 1,100 men.

The remaining 22 graduates have been placed on an eligibility list and will be called to active duty as vacancies occur. They include Charles R. Bushkill of Norris City and Alvin P. Johnson Jr. of Broughton.

Du Quoin District 13 received four of the 52 given assignments. They are Billy Joe Bivens of Chester, Earl D. Creath of Du Quoin, John M. Donahue of Herrin and Farrel Dale Page of Sesser.

Arrested for Will County Authorities

Robert L. Patterson, former Harrisburg youth, was arrested Saturday by Police Chief Ross Lane and turned over to county authorities, who are holding him for Will county.

Patterson was wanted for larceny of a motor vehicle and for parole violation.

Adventure Talk at Dinner Club Meeting

derstood in other lands," the Baron said.

The adventure tale began while the Baron was working in a bank in London and decided to go to Abyssinia before the war started there previous to World War II. He bought a small fishing boat in Italy and set out on a course which took him along the Mediterranean coast to Greece, Turkey, Cyprus and finally through the Suez into the Red Sea where he had to sell his boat. He spent a year in the Holy Land and went to India and did some pearl diving near India.

Finally he arrived in Central Africa and worked at a copper mine and bought 36,000 acres which he called his plantation. It cost him one cent per acre and he told delightful tales of running a hotel and general store for the natives.

During World War II he left Africa, returned to London and served in cloak and dagger work. After the war he returned to London and purchased a 32-foot boat and sailed the Atlantic to the U. S. His record of 58 days for the crossing still holds.

Fred Wanderlich introduced the speaker to the club.

Dr. William F. Johnson, president of the Dinner club, presided at the meeting and announced the next Dinner club meeting would be Saturday evening, March 1.

New members of the club were introduced and the invocation was given by William Putnam of Eldorado.

Book Review On Lincoln Marriage at Historical Society

The public is invited to attend the February meeting of the Saline County Historical society which will be held in the club room of the Mitchell-Carnegie Library on Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 7:30 p. m.

After a short business session the music pupils of Mrs. P. W. Sherman will furnish the entertainment. There will be a vocal unit by Lorna Jane Dallas and Charles Rann, accompanied by Larry Edwards, all of Carrier Mills.

The program for the evening will be dedicated to the lives of Abraham Lincoln and Mary Todd, his wife. Mrs. Ralph Brown Sr. will review the book, "Biography of a Marriage." Mrs. Brown is well known for her book reviews. She has appeared on many club programs in Harrisburg and has established an enviable reputation for these reviews.

The book was written by Ruth Randall, wife of the late Professor Randall of the University of Illinois. Mrs. Randall became interested in the Lincolns when her husband was doing research on his favorite subject. During this time she too devoted a great deal of time to research on the Lincolns and "Biography of a Marriage" was written as a result of this interest.

Mrs. Brown's ability to tell a graphic story combined with Mrs. Randall's vivid portrayal insures an enjoyable evening for those who attended the meeting.

Mrs. John Foster is in charge of the social hour.

Wife of Hostage Trooper Tells Of Long Vigil

Editor's Note: In the following dispatch, the wife of Missouri trooper William Little describes her feelings during and after her husband's abduction by two dangerous gunmen.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP) — Lights burned brightly and joy abounded in a small brick house on Bloomfield Road Sunday night.

Mrs. Olga Little, 31, had just learned that her husband, a Missouri highway patrol trooper, had been found alive and unharmed after being held hostage for more than 28 hours by two dangerous gunmen.

"I don't care if I never go to bed now," Mrs. Little said. "We'll sit here until we hear from Bill."

Mrs. Little was joined in her long vigil by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Percy Little, whose home she went to Saturday night after learning that her husband had been kidnapped near Van Buren, Mo.

"We've been hoping and praying for the best," the wife of the trooper said. "When that order was given to 'shoot to kill,' I really got upset."

Mrs. Little, mother of two children, James Robert, 5, and Betty Ann, 1, was taken here shortly after her husband reported he had been snatched by the gunmen. Later, it was learned one of the pair had been a mental patient. "This scared us all and we were afraid for Bill's life," Mrs. Little said.

She withheld the news of her husband's kidnapping from their son "because I didn't want to upset him," she said.

Percy Little, chief of police here, went to Paducah, Ky., to join in the manhunt for his son's abductor. Another son, John H. Little, 28, also participated in the search. John is also a trooper in the Missouri patrol.

ed to lie down, but Davis sat with a shotgun at his head all night and "I didn't sleep a wink."

The men handcuffed Little to a chair Sunday, with his own cuffs, and for a while Burton played checkers with him while Davis and Shelton played cribbage. The two men were courteous to the Sheltons, and helped Mrs. Shelton with the dishes.

Several callers came to the house, but Shelton told them his wife had contracted typhoid fever.

Davis Shoots Himself

About 5 p. m. Sunday, the men handcuffed Little to an iron bed in the back part of the house and Burton left.

Davis remarked, "I am just the follower of a bad leader," and quizzed the trooper closely about the penalty for armed robbery in Missouri. He finally remarked, "I can't do another," meaning another prison term.

About 10 p. m. they watched Paducah Police Chief Ruthe Elliott on a television program.

Five minutes after the telecast, Little said, Davis told the officer where his clothes were and went outside.

"I heard a shot, ran to get a shotgun and my clothes, and went outside. I found Davis had shot himself, out near the barn," Little said. "I thought he was dead."

The officer then radioed for help.

Little said that during the fight through three states, Burton told him he had killed a San Francisco policeman who caught him in the act of armed robbery about three weeks ago.

Burton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burton, who live in Paducah, went to the wooded area where it was believed he might be hiding, walked hand in hand into the woods, and called "Carl, come out. We'll take care of you," but there was no response.

Receives Term At State Farm

Loren Barlow, 22, of Cobden today received a term of one year on the state farm at Vandalia when arraigned before County Judge Trafton Dennis on a charge of stealing gasoline from the Frank Sutton farm south of Eldorado.

His companion, Cecil Dangbar, 21, of Carbondale, was fined $50 and $48 costs. Barlow was given the term because he has been in trouble before and it was Dangbar's first offense.

Clovia Sayer, arraigned on a vagrancy charge, pleaded innocent and his bond was set at $500. Sayer was returned to the county jail.

Rites at Lakeview Tuesday for Ernest Allen

Ernest Allen, 48, resident of Colp, died Thursday night. The body will lie in state at the Keathly funeral home in Colp until the funeral at 1 p. m. Tuesday. Funeral services will be held in the Lakeview church south of Carrier Mills with Rev. William Brown officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Last of Major Unbeaten Teams, Springfield Lanphier, Loses Twice Over Weekend

With the start of state tournament regional play just four weeks away, the high school basketball season was showing signs today of being one of the most wide open in some time.

Unlike last season when it was Herrin, Collinsville and Elgin all the way, or two and three years ago when Rockford West dominated the picture almost from the start of the season, no all-conquering team has shown up this season.

Equality Wins 87-65 Convincer Over Galatia

A strong second half gave Equality a convincing 87-65 verdict over Galatia Saturday night in the only Greater Egyptian conference game of the evening.

The first half was played on even terms, with Equality holding a 32-31 lead at the intermission.

But a 55-point second half gave Equality a comfortable margin of victory. The third frame was Equality's 25-9, then both clubs staged a scoring drive in the final frame, pouring 55 points through the nets, including 30 by the winners.

This was the fifth consecutive win, including three in the GEC, for Equality.

"We played the best game an Equality team has played in the two years I have been at the school, our play off the boards was especially good," declared Equality coach Tony Franc this morning.

Equality's Gordon Smith topped the scoring with 26 points and Gary Hill led Galatia with 23.

The box score:

Venturi Scores One-Stroke Win In Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz. —Ken Venturi, with his new crown of "King of the Golfers" firmly in place, leaves today for Tucson, Ariz., and a shot at his third consecutive championship on the winter tour. With his self-admitted "toughest victory" behind him after scoring a one-stroke win in the $15,000 Phoenix Open, the 26-year-old San Francisco shot-maker is in a position to follow out his design, which is:

"Win 'em all."

The youthful fairway artist now is the only pro on the regular circuit who has shown anything resembling mastery of the crown. He is the only man to win two major tournaments in a row this year.

He beat Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., and the fast-closing Walter Burkemo, Franklin Hills, Mich., by a single stroke with a 274.

The victory was worth $2,000 to Venturi, brought his PGA earnings for the year to $8,300, plus fringe benefits (a $4,500 car at Palm Springs and $1,500 from his golf ball sponsor, U. S. Royal). That totals $12,300 for exactly one month of play.

Burkemo and Hebert tied for second, good for $1,350 each. At 279 came John McMullin, Alameda, Calif., and Bill Collins, Grosinger, N. Y., a pair of dark horses, each collecting $950.

Rats in the United States destroy more grain in one year than is grown on 200,000 average farms.

Dr. N. W. Hosley New Chairman SIU Forestry Dept.

Dr. Neil W. Hosley

ALTON, Ill. — Dr. Neil W. Hosley, 56, Montana State University professor of forestry and former head of the University of Connecticut Forestry Department, became chairman of the Southern Illinois University Department of Forestry when his appointment was approved here this week by the SIU Board of Trustees.

He will begin his duties at SIU on June 15. Dr. A. B. Caster, chairman of the SIU Plant Industries Department in the School of Agriculture, has been acting chairman of the Forestry Department which initiated a four-year Bachelor of Science degree program in forestry on January 2. The program, first in Illinois, was approved by the SIU Board of Trustees at their October 2, 1957, meeting.

A native of Hornell, New York, Dr. Hosley has been a teacher and administrator in the fields of forestry and wildlife management since 1925.

At SIU Dr. Hosley will have the responsibility of administering and developing a broadening forestry teaching and research program as well as doing some teaching. In approving the four-year forestry program at SIU last October, the Board of Trustees considered the current national shortage of technically trained foresters, the demand of students from Illinois for a four-year forestry training program in the state, and SIU's advantageous position for providing such work. Southern is located in the midst of the state's most densely forested area (26 per cent of the land area in the southern 16 counties is forested); is near state and national forests; and is cooperating closely with U. S. Forest Service technical foresters of the Carbondale Forest Research Center (located on the SIU campus) in research projects and shared facilities, most noted of which is the Wood Products Pilot Plant.

Carbondale Attucks Snaps Carrier Mills' Victory String, 59 to 53

Carrier Mills' victory string was snapped at Carbondale Saturday night by the Attucks Bluebirds 59-53.

Going into the game Carrier Mills, the only unbeaten team in Egypt, was sporting a 15-0 record. Attucks now has a season's mark of 18-4.

Carrier Mills got in a hole early only a 9-2 scoring edge in the last minute and a half kept the score respectable. With about 1:30 left to play Attucks held a 57-44 margin. Then the 'Cats spurted for nine points while holding Attucks to a pair to pull up to the final 59-53 count.

Cold, cold shooting in the first half put Carrier Mills all but out of the game. In the first quarter the 'Cats did pretty good, hitting 6 of 20 for a .300 average. But the second quarter was awful, with just three hits in 20 tries for a .150 percentage. At the free throw line it was worse—one of nine.

Things picked up in the second half and for the entire game Carrier Mills hit 23 of 73 for .315 Attucks connected on 22 of 53 for .415.

Vern Rollins, who picked up three fouls early and had to play a cautious type of game, paced the 'Cats with 19 points. Thomas of Attucks with 22 points was the game's top scorer.

Attucks also won the preliminary game, 61-53.

Two games are on the Carrier Mills' schedule for this weekend, the Wildcats going to McLeansboro Friday and hosting Johnston City Saturday.

CARBURETOR SAVES GAS BY "JET-ING"

Car owners who are wasting money and not getting proper gas mileage due to over-rich mixtures will be pleased to learn of a Wisconsin inventor who has developed a very clever unit that saves gasoline by adding small jets of air to automatically lean and "Vacu-mat" improperly adjusted carburetor mixtures. Easily installed on cars, trucks and tractors. The manufacturers, the Vacu-matic Carburetor Co., 7617-700 W. State, Wauwatosa, Wis., are offering a Vacu-matic to anyone who will install it on his car and help introduce it to others. They will gladly send out free particulars if you write them or send your name and address on a post card today.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)
Loudspeakers are used all over America to make sounds heard above the hubbub of normal talk. Music comes forth from these instruments here and there to furnish a calming background for a physical or mental activity.

Many of these sound amplifiers are used to make announcements which need to be heard over wide areas. Some are used to balance the sound of the voice through a large auditorium so the speaker is not required to strain his voices. We have learned to listen casually to these canned voices without being disturbed, yet gaining benefit from them.

God's message is everywhere. Why cannot we learn to listen to it all the time with the same acceptance which we give to the electronically broadcast voice? God can be heard effectively at all hours of the day and in every location if we only listen. We must not turn deaf ears to His guidance and His love.

THE STORY: Ward Sebastian is aware that these are troubled times. The Modocs are on the war-path and soldiers are in Yreka to quell them. He has gone to see Anne Biglow, who cannot make up her mind to marry him.

IX
The hallway led into a fairly spacious parlor, and here a wide hearth was filled with the ruddy welcome of rippling flames. At the far end of the room a door led into a small study, where the drone of a man's voice sounded.

"Dad and Harley Ritter are going over some sort of law brief," Anne Biglow explained. "Come say hello."

As a man, Milo Biglow was full of a spare, gray, almost austere dignity.

Just now he sat in a big chair before a flat-topped desk, his head back, his eyes half closed, his slender hands steeped, as he listened to Harley Ritter's reading of the law brief. As Sebastian and Anne entered, Ritter broke off and got to his feet.

Milo Biglow stirred slightly in his chair.
"It's Ward, Dad," Anne said. "Ward Sebastian."
"Indeed! Well—well!" Biglow rose from his chair and turned. "It has been some time, Ward."
"Almost two months, sir," Sebastian shook hands, then turned to Ritter. "Harley, how are you?"
"Good enough," answered Ritter. "You might say—lucky. For Mr. Biglow has taken me into his office as a junior partner." He said it with some smugness.

Sebastian eyed him briefly. "So I heard. Congratulations! Ever the busy little bee, eh, Harley?"

There was a cut of sardonic irony in this which brought a quick, slightly frowning glance from Anne Biglow.

Ritter was of average height and inclined to fleshiness. There was a soft, pink, well-fed look about him; a neat man, always clean-shaven and smelling faintly of bay rum. A man made for comfort in a comfortable world.

"How has it been with you, Ward?" Milo Biglow asked.
"The usual, sir. A ranch to keep an eye on, and a lot of packtrail miles to ride."

"Plus a considerable element of danger, I imagine, what with all this Indian trouble going on. And just what are we going to do with that Kentpoos, that Captain Jack and his confounded Modoc followers?"

"By the present look of things, just about exterminate them, I'm afraid, sir."

"Which is the sensible thing to do," put in Harley Ritter. Sebastian regarded him intently.

"You really mean that, don't you, Harley? You'd condemn those people to death without fair trial or recourse."

Harley Ritter stiffened. "It's the only realistic solution and you know it. America has a destiny to fulfill, and can't afford to let any bunch of savages hinder her march toward it."

Milo Biglow's shoulders straightened and a faint flush crept up his gray cheeks. He spoke with some stiffness, as though his professional integrity had somehow come under fire.

"I have every legitimate sympathy for the Indian's unfortunate lot. I believe I've the right to say that no one has championed the rights of all men more sincerely than I."

"Just a minute," said Harley Ritter. "There is some word around town that a Modoc raid of ranches along the east side of Tule Lake massacred a number of whites. What have you to say to that?"

"Simply that it's true," Sebastian answered quietly. "I know, because I was there. I helped bury the victims. It was a grim business, and pretty hard to take, emotionally. Yet, logically reasoned, it must be charged up as one of the costs of war, and when has war ever been anything but a sad and bitter business? The victims of the raid were all male. No woman was harmed in any way."

"Well now," exclaimed Harley Ritter sarcastically, "that was considerable of the noble red man, wasn't it?"
"In the light of certain past events, you might even call it so. Be very convenient, don't you think, Harley, if we whites could somehow forget the Ben Wright affair?"

"Twenty years ago," scoffed Ritter. "A long time. And I've heard the story told all to Ben Wright's credit."

"So have I," Sebastian retorted. "But there's no doubt that Mister Ben Wright and his crowd did a most thorough job of coldblooded murder that day."

"Twenty years ago," repeated Harley Ritter. "All you have to

Scouts Adopt National Safety Good Turn Project

The 3,979 boys and leaders of the Egyptian Council, Boy Scouts of America, will join 4,709,000 others in the organization in launching a yearlong National Safety Good Turn during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13, it was announced by Ralph Bedwell, President of the council, Carbondale.

The Scouts' national service project was suggested by President Eisenhower, Honorary President of the Boy Scouts.

In a White House message Mr. Eisenhower told the Scouts: "In our land each individual is of inestimable worth, yet in no other land do accidents cause a more terrible loss of human life and limb. This fact cannot be passively accepted. We must seek new ways to save the basic resources of our Nation: its people."

"Encouraged by the splendid results of your Conservation Good Turn four years ago, I now urge you to adopt Safety as your service project for 1958. Through the concerted action of your members, and in cooperation with other organizations, you can alert the public to the urgent need for reducing the tragic toll of accidents."

"This is an opportunity for service to your country in the highest tradition of the Boy Scouts of America."

The Scouts' National Safety Good Turn is being coordinated nationally and locally with other safety programs and campaigns. National safety organizations have advised and assisted Scout leaders in developing plans and projects.

Mr. Bedwell said that during March, April, and May the projects will involve traffic safety. Outdoor safety projects will keep Scouts busy in June, July, and August. Home safety will be featured in September, October and November.

Next October, Mr. Bedwell said local Scouts will distribute to all homes a Civil Defense booklet on family preparedness for emergencies.

go on is hearsay. You weren't there to see."

"Nor," pointed out Sebastian curtly, "were you. It happens, however, that I have seen some evidence of white savagery. At Horse Creek, and at Desolation

Flat. There wasn't a single young and able-bodied warrior at Desolation Flat; just squaws and children and old men. So, when Provo Holt and Jake Ruby and others of their stripe finished there, they certainly left behind the white man's curse."

There was a combative glint in Sebastian's eyes, and the color in Ritter's well-barbered cheeks again grown deeper. Milo Biglow lifted a protesting hand.
"Enough! Both of you! You're on an issue which only the historians may find answer to. I suggest you leave it to them."

"So do I!" declared Anne. "Ward, you come along with me!" She tugged at his arm.
